

Course TITLE: Management Communication

Instructor: Catherine Rodriguez

Title/Position : Assistant Professor IV

Institution : Northwest Samar State University

Course Overview:

The course is intended for a short-term college course aimed at enhancing the communicative competence based in the English language of students in various social and cultural contexts. Generally, it shall examine the ways in which human language reflects the ways of life and beliefs of speakers, contrasted with extent of language influence on culture. It shall attempt to enhance the language ability of the students on the English language as medium of expressing their respective cultures through practical and hands on learning experiences.

Grading:

All performances and compliance to requirements shall have a corresponding point grade which will be accumulated at the end of the training course. All performances and compliance to requirements shall have a corresponding point grade which will be accumulated at the end of the training course. Specifically, the following grading system shall be applied:

Attendance	-	20%
Assignment/Research Work	-	20%
Presentation	-	20%
Quizzes/Examinations`	-	40%