- ④ For the students who are back home abroad and cannot return to Korean due to their national policy regarding COVID-19, online synchronous courses will be provided. Professors plan to use Zoom in their offline courses so that the students online can be linked with classrooms. Further instructions will be notified by the course professors and by Dean Professor Kim of International College if necessary.
 - ⑤ Students who are currently in Korea should prepare themselves to attend offline classes from May 11 according to their class schedule.
 - ⑥ International Office will notify the students the regulations set by the Office of Academic Affairs and the DSU's Emergency Committee in entering the buildings to their classroom and during offline classes for the safety reasons.

Please stay healthy and keep social distancing. On April 29th, S. Korea's Prime Minister Chung said that if Korea maintains its low number of new infections of the coronavirus and other industries slowly start to return to their pre-Covid-19 normal lives, schools can "cautiously" begin to allow their students to return to the classrooms as well though it really won't be an easy issue.
